GRESHAM PICKS UP SCHOONER

The Geo. W. Anderson Had Covered 30 Miles Without a Hand at the Wheel

Abandoned by her crew, the three-masted schooner George W. Anderson had covered thirty miles in thirty hours without a hand at the wheel, when picked up Thursday by the revenue cutter Gresham and towed into Gloucester.

The schooner is badly waterlogged and may never sail again, but her cargo of lumber for New Bedford is likely to reach its destination. She is owned by J. W. Lunt of Medford.

The two months' voyage of the Anderson for 250 miles down the coast from Windsor, N. S., to Gloucester, was unusually full of incident. She was aleak twice was once driven back an inbound from a search for the Prescott Fabner, picked her up 12 miles southeast of Thatchers. The Gresham had great difficulty in getting into Gloucester, as the schooner's decks were awash, and she was kept afloat by her cargo. The lumber on the Anderson is insured, but the vessel is not.

New Hampshire's senior senator, J. H. Gallinger, and republican floor leader in the senate, when asked about the President's trust message, said:

"The action was most admirable and the suggestions as to legislation were moderate, reasonable and as a rule wise.

"It seems to me that business men generally will approve of the message and I venture to add the thought that if the democrats in the two houses will be as moderate as the President, abandoning legislation by party caucus, they will find that republicans will cheerfully aid them in passing beneficial laws that will practically end the evils of private monopoly and result in the better control and management of railroad and other great corporations."

HE OBJECTED TO THE HOSE

Intoxicated Individual Mistakes Fire Extinguisher for Water Tank to Quench His Thirst

A man with a jug caused much amusement for the passengers of the Conway branch passenger train arriving here at 7.22 on Thursday evening. Having consumed all the liquid in his hip pocket, he was obliged to revert to the good old clear water. So great was his thirst that he mistook the fire extinguisher in the smoking car for the water tank and tried to extract the fluid from the same without success.

Drunkman Brown was attracted by the jug fusing with the fire fighting apparatus and when he approached him he found him with the hose of the fire extinguisher in his hand putting up a kick because he could get no water.

"What are you doing with that?" inquired the brakeman.

"I want a drink. This is a ——— of a hose. Why don't you have a glass of a hose. Why don't you have a glass of a hose?"

It took Brown some time to explain the difference between the two receptacles while the drunk still held the hose in his hand with a disappointed expression on his face.

There was no doubt in the minds of the passengers that the drunk would have sobered up in his time, had he succeeded in getting the chemical liquid from the brass tank into his own and that it would never be necessary for him to put in a season at that famous institution known as the "Reeley Cure."

Today was pay day for the men employed on the Boston & Maine railroad in this city.

SUES DIRECTORS FOR $14,000,000

Action Is Brought by Counsel for Receivers of Frisco Road.

St. Louis, Jan. 22. Suit to recover more than $14,000,000 was filed today in the United States District Court here by the receivers of the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad.

The suit was filed by a lawyer representing the receivers and the action was brought in accordance with recent instructions of Walter H. Starbuck, circuit judge, before whom the receivership proceedings were brought in May.

The ten men named in the suit are B. F. Yockum, chairman of the Frisco directors at the time of the receivership; James Campbell, a resident of the North American Company, which brought the receivership suit; William K. Bixby, now receiver of the Wabash; C. W. Hilliard, former vice president of the Frisco; E. L. Wandaell, former president of the Frisco; R. V. R. Thayer, A. S. Gable, Frank Trumbull, Thomas H. West, chairman of the board of directors of the St. Louis Union Trust Company, and Hans Winterfeldt.

The petition says that the men were directors of the Frisco from December 1, 1908 to June 1, 1910, and that within the time the St. Louis, Brownsville and Mexican railroad was sold to the Frisco.

The petition charges that the defendants unlawfully caused the Frisco to pay out $14,468,923 without receiving anything of value in exchange, and that without lawful authority they caused a great debt to be created against the Frisco Company.

The sale of the Brownsville to the syndicate that promoted it to the Frisco is declared in the suit to have been void, as the purchase was behind the corporate power of the Frisco. Neither the Frisco directors nor those acting under them, it is declared, were empowered to make any payment from Frisco funds in the discharge of any assumed obligation incurred in connection with the Brownsville deal.

Ask Court for Accounting. The receivers in their petition ask that the court order an accounting of all losses and damages resulting to the Frisco by the alleged mismanagement of directors and that judgment be given for the entire purchase price of the Brownsville with high interest.

The receivers charge that the Frisco directors so modified the Brownsville purchase contracts as to pay part cash to the St. Louis Union Trust company for the stocks and bonds of the Brownsville, instead of paying with Brownsville bonds, as originally agreed.

The receivers charge that Mr. Yockum, Mr. West and Mr. Campbell acted with as lawyers on orders in and out of the receivership proceedings in the Brownsville deal to their individual profit and in disregard of the rights of the Frisco stockholders.

Mr. West was elected director of the Frisco and the Brownsville purchase was authorized, but it is charged that he thereafter secured and authorized the payment of $1,000,000 in the deal.

The petition outlines the details of the deal with the New Orleans, Texas and Mexico railway, a subsidiary of the Frisco, which is now being sold. This road is stated now constitutes a $26,000,000 liability against the Frisco for the past year. The petition says that the road was sold such cash and securities that on May 17, 1910, the New Orleans was indebted $26,000,000 to the Frisco. The receivers said that in their judgment the New Orleans road then was and now is insolvent.

Papers in the suit were served on Mr. Yockum this afternoon by a deputy United States Marshal, who found him using the long distance telephone to New York. Mr. Greig was with Mr. Yockum and was served at the same time.

Miss Alice Glenn of York Harbor was a visitor here on Thursday.

PLANNING A HOLD ON BIG BUSINESS

Terms of Four Bills Announced to Eke Out Anti-Trust Act.

Washington, January 22. Four in the proposed hold to supplement the Sherman anti-trust act, suggested by President Wilson in his recent message to Congress, were made public tonight, one of them, the measure to create an Interstate Trade Commission, having been introduced today in the house by Congressman Clayton, chairman of the Judiciary committee.

Three other measures proposed by the House Judiciary Committee were given to the public in accordance with the President's program of publicity. Hearings will be held on all of them. The bills are introduced.

The three bills to be introduced to improve the following:

Prohibition of interstate commerce in the case of individuals, power of attorney, and the power of attorney to be effective two years after approval.

Prohibition of the terms of the Sherman anti-trust act, to include, in addition, the meaning of conspiracy, to restrain of trade, every contract, combination in the form of a trust or otherwise within the meaning of the word "monopolies" contain definite offenses, all of which would be prohibited and fixing guilt upon individuals.

A trade relations measure designed to prohibit "rental" competition through price discrimination, discounts, rebates, preferential restrictions, and other means, and to give to individuals injured by reason of anything forbidden in the Sherman act, the right to bring suits in equity against corporations, against which devices have been obtained by the government.

Chairman Clayton announced that a fourth projected measure which would provide for government regulation of railroad securities had not been drafted and would be taken up by the house and senate Interstate Commerce Committee.

Public Hearings

President Wilson expects action by Congress during the present session on all the various bills being prepared by the congressional committee to deal with the trust question. The President reiterated his desire that the business men of the country should be given a full opportunity in public hearings to express their views and criticisms on the measures as framed.

While the President recommended in his message the supervision by the Interstate Commerce Commission of the issuance of railroad stocks and bonds he took occasion today to emphasize that did not necessarily mean that part issues of securities would be required to be filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Nor did the President consider that the regulation of railroad securities has anything to do with the subject of regulating stock exchanges.

Legislation on this subject he explained was not recommended in the Democratic platform and he did not feel that he should recommend anything that had not been included in the platform.

Interstate Trade Commission

The Interstate Trade Commission proposed by Congressman Clayton would also be the Bureau of Corporations and have five members at $10,000 salaries with powers of investigation over all corporations except common carriers which are regulated by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

It would also act as an advisory board to the attorney general and the courts, but its most important function is designed to assist business and the government in preventing violations of the Sherman act; in adding the attorney general to terminate alleged unlawful conditions by agreements such as have recently been executed in the American Telephone & Telegraph Company, and New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad cases.

Some Powers Conferred

In the section of the measure providing for publicity of the conditions surrounding business corporations, despite the fact that there has been much agitation against immunity to individuals who might testify or produce evidence in inquiries conducted by the commission immunity is granted to individuals except for perjury. There is, however, no immunity to corporations.

The bill sets forth that the commission shall require all corporations engaged in commerce among the states, of which foreign nations, except common carriers, whether required by the general rules and regulations for regular information or information specially asked, from time to time to furnish to the commission, information, statements and records of their organization, business, financial condition, conduct, management, and relation to other companies, at such time, to such degree and extent that in each form it may be prescribed by the commission.

The tug Mitchell Davis, Captain T. B. Hays, spent a considerable part of Thursday in a vain search for the abandoned lumber loaded schooner, George W. Anderson.

The tug first steamed as far as Newburyport, then headed for Cape Ann, and returned via the Isles of Shoals, thus circling Newburyport.

The waterlogged vessel, however, had been sighted earlier in the morning by a tug from Rockport, Mass., and towed into Gloucester.

How the schooner managed to drift so far with such anchors down can only be explained by the supposition that in their hurried departure the crew neglected to pay out sufficient chain cable to enable the schooner to hold.

Largely through the efforts of Selectman Frank Getchell, a representative of the Good Roads Machine Co. will give a talk on stone crushers at 7.30 on Monday evening in the Selectmen's office in Kittery. All those interested in the subject are invited to be present.

Attorney John L. MacNeil is in Kittery today in attendance at the superior court.

GRAND JURY ACTS ON SULZER STORY

Starts Investigation of Charges Brought by Impeached Executive.

New York, Jan. 22. A grand jury investigation was begun today into the story told under oath yesterday by William Sulzer that Charles E. Murphy had sent a messenger to him during the trial of the impeachment charges against him, as governor, and offered to call off the trial if Sulzer would quit his grand investigation into state departments.

Sulzer today repeated before the grand jury the whole story of his dealings with the Tammany chief and it was made known by District Attorney Whitman, that this part of it and the part relating to the alleged attempt of Charles E. Murphy, Murphy's business and political associate to exact a political contribution of $100,000 from James C. Stewart, a state highway contractor, would be made the subject of a two-fold inquiry.

Mr. Whitman said that Murphy would be called as a witness in the John Doe inquiry, by means of which the district attorney has frequently adduced evidence for presentation to the jury. Murphy today denounced Sulzer's story as false and said that he was willing to testify and would waive immunity.

The district attorney also said that United States Senator McGowan, who Sulzer testified, told him that Gaffney was Murphy's "hugman" and had "held Stewart up" would also be called. Senator McGowan today testified that he would be willing to appear at any time.

Sulzer testified yesterday that while the trial of his impeachment was in progress, Murphy had sent word "again and again" that if he quit, he'd quit, and that Senators Praxley, Wagner, Ramoetter and Sumner would quit.

The messenger, he said, was John H. Delaney. Sulzer is understood to have explained before the grand jury today that this alleged bargain meant that the four senators would vote against his impeachment and that these four negative votes would be enough to prevent the two-thirds majority of the senate required for a verdict against him.

The deposed governor was before the jury for nearly two hours and will be called again later.

This perfect laxative is now on sale at all drug stores. Order Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil by name, to distinguish it from various mixed and flavored castor oils which are not tasteless. The trade mark is on every label—a green castor leaf bearing the signature—Kellogg's, 25c and 50c sizes.

THE CREW OF THE PRESCOTT PALMER SAFE

Taken From Sinking Schooner By Steamer to Bermuda--Schooner Was Bound Here.

Portland, Me., Jan. 22.—The crew of the missing five-masted schooner Prescott Palmer were picked up by a steamer, which landed them at Bermuda today, according to a cablegram received by the owners today.

The schooner was abandoned during the severe storm last week. The cablegram was sent by Capt. George A. Curd, of Bathing Harbor, master of the Palmer.

The cablegram contained no information of the position of the schooner when abandoned and did not state whether all of the crew of 14 were saved, but it was assumed they were.

The Prescott Palmer is the last of the missing vessels to be accounted for. Of the others, the five-masted Fuller Palmer was abandoned and the crew rescued and taken to Baltimore by the steamer Marina. The five-masted Grace A. Martin sank on Martinique Reef, and the crew were picked up 24 hours later and taken into Boston by the steamer A. W. Perry and the four-masted schooner Northland was found in distress off the entrance to Penobscot Bay and towed into Rockland with all hands safe.

The Prescott Palmer was built at Bath 12 years ago at a cost of about $75,000. She registered 2307 net tonnage and was 238 feet long.

When the Prescott Palmer failed to reach port two revenue cutters were sent offshore in search of her. They were still cruising between Nantucket lights and Cape Sable when the report of the saving of the Palmer's crew was received.

The Prescott Palmer was owned by J. S. Winslow & Co., of Portland and was in the north-bound eventide fleet that was caught off Cape Cod in the gale of Jan. 12.

Her loss makes the marine casualty list for the gale one steamer, seven schooners and one barge, but so far as known only one life was lost.

Several other schooners were badly shattered and blown far off shore. The Palmer was bound from Norfolk to Portsmouth with 5000 tons of coal, and was last sighted by the captain of the Fuller Palmer staggering along under the gale some miles off Cape Cod.

The attendance last week was exceptionally large there being nearly a hundred and fifty present. All attending were amply repaid for the games were fast and clean showing a great improvement over those of last year. The Freshmen, although defeated, spring a sure prize by playing such a clean and aggressive game. With a little practice they will have a good working team.

The second game will be played in the evening between the unbeaten Wenches Club and the Morley A. C. Both teams present a strong lineup and a good game is assured. The two previous games played have been easy for the Wenches Club. The first with the Berwick Academy team resulted in a victory by a score of 17 to

An Extravagant Proposition.

A Boston school principal takes the ground that cities should grant leave of absence, with half pay, to modern language teachers who will go to the expense of study abroad. He says one cannot really know a foreign language without having lived for a time in the land where it is spoken, and believes that a sojourn abroad, coupled with diligent study, would be of great benefit to American language teachers and the schools over which they preside. This educator says: "Methods are far less important than efficient instruction. The worst of a dozen methods employed by a strong teacher with underlying purpose well in mind will give a more valuable training and better results than any method when employed by an inferior teacher."

That is doubtless true, but why should not teachers be known to be properly equipped for their responsible duties before they are engaged, and why should cities be called upon to grant them leaves of absence with half pay in order that they may qualify themselves for the work they are employed to do?

These are questions that will present themselves to the minds of many. If it is necessary for language teachers to spend some time abroad in order to adequately fit themselves for their work, why should they not do this before taking positions as public instructors? School authorities are supposed to know something of the qualifications of candidates for positions on the teaching force, and when these are not what they ought to be the candidates should not be engaged. The public does not want inferior teachers, neither does it wish to pay their salaries and educate them at the same time.

The public through normal schools and other means does much to enable young persons to fit themselves for teaching, and any proposition like that of this Boston man should, and doubtless will, fall flat. As before stated, if residence and study abroad are really essential they should be had at the expense of the teachers before their work is begun, and not afterward at the expense of the public.

Dr. Margaret L. Noyes of Boston says a good drink of whiskey and a hot shower bath will usually break the severest cold. This will convince many that women doctors know their business. Furthermore, there are doubtless many who, finding the shower bath inconvenient or inaccessible, will endeavor to make up the deficiency by taking two drinks of whiskey.

Detective Burns is right when he says that most police chiefs and policemen are honest and anxious to do their duty, and that their failure to do it is in too many instances chargeable to men higher up. Mr. Burns is in a position to know, for he has a great deal of experience with both classes.

All of the state officers chosen at the last election in Massachusetts have taken the oath of office, and the Old Bay State is now in the hands of the democrats to a greater extent than ever before since the civil war. They swept all the state offices as with a new broom.

Apparently former Governor Sulzer of New York as a witness in the graft investigation is telling some plain truths about Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany leader. But it was not for what Mr. Murphy did that Mr. Sulzer was impeached.

The unpopularity of the Wisconsin eugenic law must have made it easy for the judge who did so to pronounce it unconstitutional. And yet the final decision must be made by the supreme court.

With beef coming from South America and Australia and eggs arriving in quantity from China, it seems as if there should be some slight relief in time.

The criminal records of New York would indicate that the school for burglars that has just been discovered in Brooklyn was a thorough-going institution.

If agricultural colleges were really "agricultural" would it be necessary for the students to devote much time to athletics? Farmers' boys don't have to.

We did not have to go into a new country to build the Panama canal. The city of Panama has just celebrated its 241st anniversary.

NINETY WERE PRESENT

The Rogers Mission Circle of the North Congregational church met in the chapel on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock, ninety children being present. The regular work was accomplished, and preparations were made for the sale which will be held in February.

Refreshments were served. Mrs. William Craig and Mrs. Thomas Mitchell were the hostesses.

MORRISON-JOHNSON

The many friends of Miss Sarah E. Johnson and James J. Morrison were surprised to learn that they were quietly married last summer, at Dover at the Universalist church, by the Rev. Clayton G. Vogt of that city. The groom is a well known young blacksmith of this city, while the bride is a popular young lady, also of this city. They will live with the bride's mother on Bartlett street.

Wilson's Representative, Who Is Storm Center In Mexican Revolt.

The Herald Hears

That it is surprising what differences you will find in reading some of the thermometers about town.

That it is evident that some of them should have a dose of hot drops.

That the Portsmouth Elks will open the rooms in the new annex about March 1st.

That the opening night will be some affair.

That the members of the Grand Army are right when they advocate the erection of a fence around the Soldiers and Sailors monument in Goodwin Park.

That it should have been done long ago for the protection of the same.

That the 9 o'clock club will retire to the rear when the midnight club opens up for business.

That the thermometer at Union, N. H., was 15 below the zero mark this morning.

That two Portsmouth firms lost out in their bid to remove the brown-tails.

That Nell O'Brien the funniest man in the minstrel line comes here on January 28.

That nobody has yet seen any of those speedy steeds pacing up and down on the lee of the North pond.

That the local soldier boys are getting anxious for somebody to start something on the state armory.

That the members of the fire department at Kittery Point are wondering if the pool table will come back.

That they believe that it would still be anchored in the fire company quarters if the monopolists had quit the night and day work with the cure.

That back beer will soon be in the market.

That the Jefferson Club are arranging for a smoke talk.

HELD INFORMAL SOCIAL

The members of the teaching staff of the Portsmouth High School held an informal social at the Rockingham Hotel on Wednesday evening. An illustrated lecture was given after which luncheon was served. Principal Thurston and Superintendent Pingle were among the guests.

RAILROAD NOTES

Passenger coach, No. 321 at the shops of the Boston & Maine at Concord is being fitted up for Examiner M. A. Randall who will conduct the examinations most of the summer in vision, color, sense and hearing as well as general rules. As there are some twenty-five thousand men in the employ of the Boston & Maine, a large part of them have to take this examination every three years, which will take Mr. Randall over nearly the entire system.

It is expected that the switch tower at Bow Junction on the Portsmouth branch will be removed about February 5 so as to allow the relaying of the track to be used by the steam railroad. The rails for the electric cars will not be laid across the new steel bridge until after those for the steam road have been laid.

The Boston & Maine frog shop at Nashua, employing 130 will be removed to Keene, and Keene loses to Billerica, Mass., repair shops, employing 700.

ELECTED MODERATOR.

At the annual meeting of the South Congregational Society at Concord, E. Scott Owen, a former resident of this city, long connected with the choir of the North Congregational church, was elected to the office of moderator. The other officers will be filled by the following: Clerk, Charles G. Remick; treasurer, Bennett Hatchelder; auditors, Frank P. Andrews, and Benjamin S. Rolfe. Arthur S. Knowlton was elected a member of the standing committee to succeed himself. Frank P. Andrews was chosen to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John Kimball. William E. Thayer was elected trustee of the endowment fund for three years. Reports of the treasurer of the endowment fund and of the standing committee were read and accepted.

CELEBRATED ANNIVERSARY

Men's Class of Middle-St. Baptist Church Observe Event With Banquet.

The Men's Class, connected with the Sunday school of the Middle Street Baptist church, celebrated their anniversary on Thursday evening in the chapel of the church with a banquet and speeches by the invited guests.

The class of thirty-five members entertained the Men's Class of the Pearl street church and the Onward Class of the Court street church, as well as the honorary guests, Mayor Harry B. Weston and Frank H. Thurston, Principal of the local high school. The banquet which was served at 6.30 embraced the following toothsome dishes: Roast Vermont turkey, cranberry sauce, celery, mashed potatoes, browned gravy, scalloped oysters, hot rolls, harlequin ice cream, fancy cakes and coffee.

Mr. Baldwin A. Reich, chairman of the committee of arrangements, catered in his characteristic efficient manner and was ably assisted by the following young men:

Messrs. Norman Rand, Leon Roberts, Roy MacDonald, Sidney Rand, Emerson Locke, and Maurice Hurt.

B. A. Reich, toastmaster of the occasion, kept the assembly in good humor throughout the evening with his witticisms and puns. Mr. Clarence Smart, having the double distinction of being president of the Onward Class of the Court street church, and being the object of one of the toastmaster's jokes, feelingly responded to the latter.

The Deacons of the church added timely speeches; the venerable Mr. Chase of the Pearl street church gave a touching address; Rev. William P. Stanley spoke very interestingly and Principal Thurston gave a talk which was edifying to those present. Rev. Percy W. Caswell was replete with stories and also gave a good talk. Mr. Charles Hatch afforded the audience much amusement by his timely stories, and Rev. Edward Moulton made very pleasing remarks.

The speech of Mayor Weston was a feature of the evening's entertainment.

It was indeed an evening of jollification, replete with stories, college songs, toasts and speeches, which produced a helpful as well as a social element and will long be remembered by both guests and hosts.

CURRENT OPINION

Obsolete Vessels Should Make Way for Four Battle-ship Program.

I see no signs of war in the future. I trust there will be no more wars. I do feel, however, that this nation should not be off its guard. You can say for me that my views of peace and the future of the navy are expressed in the few words of General Ketter, who represented Ohio in congress, "In time of peace prepare to maintain it."

That is the way I feel about the navy, and, while I hope and believe there will be no more wars, it seems to me that it is well for this nation to have a four battleship program to replace obsolete vessels and to prepare to maintain peace.—Admiral George Dewey, Hero of Manila Bay.

FIRST CASE BEING HEARD

Action of Noyes vs. Knight
Commences in Superior Court at Exeter.

The first case to go on trial in the superior court at Exeter was commenced Thursday and was that of Harry I. Noyes of Hampton against Mrs. Emma M. Knight of Exeter. This is an action to recover for wages. The allegations are that the plaintiff was engaged during the summer of 1911 to do some carpenter work at the residence of the defendant at the corner of Elliot and Front streets.

The defendant alleges that more was done than needed, while it was alleged by Judge H. A. Shute, who made the opening argument to the jury, that the defendant made several suggestions which changed the work, thus entailing more than the original agreement.

The foreman of the jury is Walter H. Green of New Castle, and the remainder of the panel is Walter P. Mack of Londonderry; Charles K. Webster of East Kingston; John H. Page of Portsmouth; Michael E. Carty of Portsmouth; Emmons T. Brown of North Hampton; Lewis E. Griffin of Raymond; Sidney P. Kimball of Newington; George C. Eastman of Kensington; J. D. Goldsmith of Chester; John D. Dart of Derry and Plummer B. Smith of Portsmouth.

The attorneys for the plaintiff are Judge H. A. and Richard E. Shute of Exeter, and Christian, Scammon and Gardner of Exeter for the defendant. The jury was sent to the scene of the work in the morning and the trial, which lasted for the remainder of the day, was then taken up.

A strong dramatic subject in three parts. The story deals with a chemist who works out a formula for a new high explosive. With the exception of one ingredient, the formula is stolen by a fellow workman. The inventor is killed by a premature explosion and the man who stole his fortune floats a large company on the existing supply of the red powder. The manner in which his treachery is discovered makes this a most interesting feature.

CITY COUNCIL PROVIDE FOR A BOND ISSUE

To Refund a Sewer Bond Issue of 1894--Dr. F. W. Boland Elected to Board of Health.

A meeting of the Mayor and Council was held on Thursday evening and sent time. There was considerable business taken care of. The Council were in the Mayor's office until 8:40 discussing the Board of Health election and other matters and they were not called together until that time.

A petition for a sewerage system brought forth a statement from Mayor Yeaton that the Council had stated that there was no cause for the petition for having signs from buildings, inasmuch as the matter was taken care of in the state law which was drafted into the city ordinance regarding the height of signs and awnings from the side walk. This started considerable discussion in which it was stated that it had always been the custom to have permission from the Council. Mayor Yeaton said that later some action would be taken on the height of awnings as there were several buildings which had the required height at the present time.

The matter was finally referred to the City Solicitor for a more definite opinion.

The Solicitor also asked for further time on the matter of the Plague property.

Dr. F. W. Boland and Mr. Bennett were elected to the Board of Health. Dr. Boland was elected as a special committee from the Storer Post, No. 1, G. A. R., in regard to the fencing in of the Soldiers and Sailors monument at Goodwin Park. Mr. Bennett stated that it was being defaced and the Post were very anxious to have the fence erected and the monument painted. He estimated the cost of the fence and painting at $150.

Mayor Yeaton addressed the Council at some length relating the history of the monument and how the Council should preserve it to honor the dead.

who have fought the good fight for their country.

On motion of Councilman Bennett that special committee be appointed to get estimate of the cost of the work required and report to the Board so that it would be made a part of the appropriation bill. The Mayor appointed as such a committee, Councilmen Bennett, Woods and Herlick.

A petition for permission to open a street to repair a drain started the old discussion as to who the petition should go to first. The Mayor stated that it was the custom to file the petition and go ahead with the work and before the Board of Public Works or Council granted the petition it was done. Supt. Barrett had repeatedly objected to this on the ground that considerable damage was done to sewers by bad entry and in some cases under a petition to open a street for a sewer houses had been connected with the water main.

Mr. John Suggs, a member of the Board of Public Works appeared before the Board and asked that the petition be sent to the Board first so that they would know when this work was being done and supervise it.

Councilman Bennett said he had always been in favor of having the Board consider the matter first, but legal authorities had claimed that the Council had no right to delegate their legislative power to any other body.

The matter was finally decided on a motion of Councilman Herlick that a committee with the Solicitor added take up the matter with the Board of Public Works and make some arrangements. The committee was appointed by the Mayor as follows: Herlick, Tilton and Bennett.

Elected a Member of the Board of Health.

A ballot was taken on the election of a member of the Board of Health for three years and Dr. F. W. Boland was elected over Edwin C. Heworth. The vote was for Herlick, Herlick, Dunham and Wood, for Boland, Tilton, Bennett, Bowdell, Bothwick, Schurman and Woods.

The bonds for Walter H. Page, collector of taxes at $30,000 and John C. Buckholder for City Treasurer, for the same amount were accepted.

The annual reports of the heads of the various departments were presented, the reading was dispensed with and the reports ordered filed and printed. These included the Sinking Fund Commission.

Councilman Bennett offered a resolution for the Auditor to purchase a set of Dillon's Municipal Corporations for the use of the city and it was ordered.

Councilman Dunham offered a resolution for the refunding of a sewer bond issue of 1891 which would be due in May of this year and for which no provision had been made. The bonds were $40,000 and the resolution provided for the release in form of serial bonds, $2,000 to be retired every year for the next twenty years.

An amount to the ordinances which provided for the recent change by which the bond of the city clerk should be paid by the city was passed.

Councilman Woods asked that if the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department had any spare ladders that he be instructed to have them distributed about the shores of the South pond until spring. He explained that every year when the ice was breaking up there was danger from the school children falling through the ice and a ladder would be a great help. The ladders could be left with property owners along the shores of the pond. Councilman Dunham said it was a fine suggestion and he would see that the Chief Engineer would distribute some of the old ladders for this purpose.

The Auditor's report of bills amounting to $174,34 were ordered paid.

Adjourned to Feb. 5.

THE SAILORS AT SCHOOL HAS AN AMUSING SIDE

Washington, Jan. 22.—In the Brooklyn navy yard, where the battleships Arkansas and North Dakota are moored, amusing stories are told by the officers of their experiences as school masters under Secretary Daniels' new system. Each of these ships has a complement of some 900 men, who have been carefully graded, through preliminary examinations, into groups and classes. Commander Jackson of the North Dakota explained yesterday the way in which the school work is being conducted. "All of the officers, except the captain, commander and navigator of each vessel, act as instructors in the elementary subjects and in higher mathematics," he said. "Thus, on the North Dakota, we have thirty-four officers, graduates of Annapolis, to give tuition to the men. All members of the crew of whatever grade or branch of service are compelled to take up a course of study. The classes are conducted from 1:15 p. m. to 2:30 p. m."

One of the officers of the North Dakota, who has been conducting classes, told these experiences: "Of course," he said, "this is a battleship, and the work is conducted under some difficulties. When I want a blackboard, for example, I send word to the ship's carpenter, and he meets the requisition by nailing together a few pieces of board, planting them off, and giving the finished product a coat of black paint. Most of the officers have equipped themselves with blackboards six by three feet in dimension. The most amusing incidents which I have encountered have been brought about generally by the cooperation of some of the practical jokers of the forecastle. The more earnest among the men—those who realize their deficiencies and are really anxious to improve themselves—seek the advice of their comrades sometimes with ludicrous results. In consequence of their very ardor, therefore, they frequently attend class the following day primed with much misinformation upon historical and other topics."

"One of my classes is composed of mess attendants, Filipinos, who have been graded above their fellows because they happen to possess a fair common school education. Those fellows excel at penmanship. They invariably write a copperplate hand, but their sentences are interlarded with Spanish equivalents for the words or phrases lacking in their English vocabularies, and the result is sometimes very amusing. The other day I told this class that I wanted them to submit at the next lesson compositions on the subject, 'Why I Joined the American Navy.' One of them wrote: 'I joined navy for regimant rahans 3 times dayly.' Still another explained that he had 'unlisted for to serve woss of my humane race.' The best of all was a chap who wanted to cure sickness of the heart when I am far away."

"I asked another class of mess attendants to prepare compositions on George Washington. One of them sought outside counsel from a companion who has a sense of humor, and this was his essay:

George Washington was sore because Ammerical persons is not free. He sale to England on North Dakota ship and say to king, 'I express declaration of Independens for Ammerical persons.' King say nothing doin and Mr. Washington tell admiral Doves to shoot turret guns. Bimeby, king say he will not rule Ammerical persons again. 'Let Georg do it, say king, and Ammerical persons is free.'"

Commander Jackson, in describing the serious nature of the work and the results accomplished said:

"The task of grading the men has not yet been completed fully. Many of them say they have enjoyed a complete grammar school education, and still others have even progressed much further. Then, too, there are many who are woefully lacking in the rudiments of education. Such men as we have determined, through the preliminary examinations are qualified to pursue the subjects are permitted to take up technical studies, including electrical engineering, mechanical engineering, stenography, ordnance, higher mathematics and navigation. The pay officers conduct classes in bookkeeping and in accounting. In addition such trades as plumbing, gas fitting, printing, carpentry, and mechanics are taught to those men desiring such instruction, and who are deemed capable of undertaking such practical courses."

"The only textbooks used are those prescribed in the order of the Navy Department for teaching arithmetic, writing, spelling, geography and American history. Men taking up other courses are obliged to obtain their tuition through lectures and practical demonstrations or from textbooks purchased by themselves. Some of the enlisted men are pursuing courses in recognized correspondence schools, and these are excused from the regular school work and the hour is set aside for them for study purposes. These men receive advice and assistance as their studies from the officers as they require it."

"The chief difficulty has been in curbing the desires of those men who are over-ambitious and who are mistaken in their estimate of their own qualifications, to pursue, theoretic studies. Some of these men are really practical electricians, but when it comes to teaching them technical these lines don't go to heavy culture, to have them removed. They scarcely notice they are there, nor do their friends think of them as anything but beauty marks. It is the time when come from discontent and ill temper that are disgusting. They cross the brow and drag down the mouth, and encircle the eyes unpleasantly. They make a woman fly to specialists and indulge in quantities of highly recommended groups and lotions.

MOTHER! THE CHILD IS COSTIVE, BILIOUS

Don't Hesitate! A Laxative is Necessary if Tongue is Coated, Breath Bad or Stomach Sour

Give California Syrup of Figs at once—a teaspoonful today often saves a sick child tomorrow.

If your little one is out of sorts, half sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. That is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of California Syrup of Figs, and in a few hours all the congested poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful, child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative" because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and soothe the stomach, and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups, printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of California Syrup of Figs, then see that it is made by the California Fig Syrup Company. Don't be fooled.

ENGINES COME TOGETHER IN SNOW STORM

Ashland, N. H., Jan. 22.—At 1 o'clock this morning, with the temperature about 10 below zero and the wind blowing a gale and the fine snow falling into drifts with a blinding fury, two engines belonging to the Boston & Maine railroad were in collision at what is known as the Ashland Summit. As a consequence four trainmen are now being cared for at the Plymouth Hospital and the two engines are badly demolished.

The accident occurred within the blocks of the black signal service and both engines were helpless which assisted freight in making the summit engine 190 running from Concord to Plymouth, with engineer George A. Webster of Woodsville in charge, with fireman John Merrill of Concord, and engine 2381 being in charge of engineer William Callahan of Concord with fireman Walter Wheeler of Westworth.

The engine tenders came together. When they struck the steam pipes were broken and the escaping steam enveloped the men in the cab, scalding them severely. Both engines were thrown off the track in a heap. We d. was finally gotten to Ashland Station and a special train with doctors was hurried from Plymouth to the scene. The trainmen, with clothing drenched by the hot water from the escaping pipes, had suffered terribly waiting for assistance and they were rushed to the hospital.

John Merrill of Concord, fireman on engine 190, is bruised and scratched. Walter Wheeler of Westworth, fireman on engine 2381, has a bad gash over the left eye and is severely scalded. William Callahan of Concord, engineer on engine 2381, received a laceration to stomach and is scalded and bruised. George A. Webster, engineer on engine 190, is bruised and scalded.

It is thought that the flying snow prevented the engineers from seeing the signals of the black system, causing the accident.

THE LINCOLN HIGHWAY, DETROIT, MICH.

Newark, N. J., Jan. 22.—The Essex-Hudson Lincoln Highway from Jersey City to Newark just dedicated to the Nation's greatest patriot, is declared to be the most expensive section of this new transcontinental thoroughfare and the first to be completed.

This historic highway was established in 1775 by the Colonial legislature of New Jersey which called upon "all good people" to "assist in keeping it in for travel." A public notice in the New York Gazette, June 27, 1755, declared the highway "would run from New-Ark to the public road near the Town of Bergen leading to the Paulus Hook and established ferries over the two small rivers, Passaic and Hackensack, which makes the distance from Paulus Hook to New-Ark eight miles and will be a level and good road when the Causeways are made."

The road was first known as the "Ferry Road" because the Passaic and Hackensack were crossed on ferries. After the bridges were built extra heavy planking was laid crosswise on the road and the name by which the highway has been known for upwards of a century, and which now goes back into history, the "Plank Road" was given it.

The new road, cost $1,318,000, of which $500,000 represents the cost of bridges. The highway is 100 feet in width, with 10-foot sidewalks on either side and two 25-foot road ways.

Trolley tracks are raised 12 inches in the center. Those who use the road locally are already calling it "Lincoln Way" by which it will be best known.

Laramie, Wyo., Jan. 22.—The route of the Lincoln Highway between Laramie and Rawlins has great historic interest in this section of the country. It follows the trail laid out by General Fremont and his troops in 1833.

Omaha, Neb.—Representatives of the Lincoln Highway Association in this state are negotiating with the Union Pacific Railroad for a lease at a nominal rental for 99 years on the inside 100 feet of the railroad's right of way. There is nearly 100 miles of this road which is wanted in the western section of the state. Indications point to the application being accepted by the company.

Belknap, Me.—Rev. A. B. Whitcomb of Dixton, Me., of the Episcopal church of that City, has been appointed County Counsel for Lee County of the Lincoln Highway Association, by J. W. Sorlings, State Counsel.

La Porte, Ind.—Beautiful steel and concrete arches are being considered here as a means to beautify the Lincoln Way through this city. Arches at each end of the city would welcome the travelers and there would be others at suitable intervals along the route within the limits of the municipality. Tablets in bronze will carry the names of patriotic citizens who have been instrumental in raising funds for the improved Highway in this territory and will be placed on these arches.

A FLATTERING DEFEAT

The winter's fashions are undeniably charming and an episode in their honor was related the other day by Lieut. Barnes at Annapolis.

"A very pretty little girl" he said "was motoring on a recent afternoon with a young man, when, without a word of warning he put his arms around her neck and kissed her."

"She was terribly enraged. She had the young man arrested. And she described angrily in court how he had seized her in silence, and then had gazed her and kissed her on the lips."

"A verdict of guilty was confidently expected. But on the jury's return the foreman asked permission to put two questions to the plaintiff."

"Were you wearing Miss—so and his first question—were you wearing, when with this young man that blue portmanteau?"

"Yes," she answered smilingly.

"And were you wearing," the foreman pursued, "that sable mantle with the Elizabethan ruff?"

"Yes," she said again.

"Then," answered the foreman, "I have to announce that this jury acquits the defendant on the ground of conditional insanity."

TO COLLECT THE OLD TIME SONGS

Washington, Jan. 22.—Convinced that many of the English and Scotch popular ballads of olden times which still survive in the United States are threatened with extinction, unless steps are at once taken to preserve them, the Federal Bureau of Education announced today that it has instituted a Nation-wide search for versions of these old ballads.

Dr. C. A. Johnson, Smith of the University of Virginia, a prominent folk lore investigator has been commissioned to conduct the search. It is planned also to ask teachers and others to cooperate with a view to starting a ballad collection for every state so that state folk-lore societies may be encouraged to aid in the work.

"If our American versions are not collected immediately they can never be collected at all," Prof. Smith asserted today. "Many folk-lore societies are endeavoring to collect them. Catchy but empty songs not worthy of comparison with them, the decadence of commercial music, the growing diversity of interests, the apathy to what is diverse and separate in our National life, the presence of the artificial and self-consciousness in modern writing are depriving our homes and schools of a kind of literature which for some time has been a source of national pride, for vividness of style and content, for simplicity of style and content, is not surpassed in the whole history of English or American song."

Among the ballads for which survivals are sought are: Robin Hood, the Raggy Farmer, Durham Field, the Earl of March's Daughter, Fair Annie, John Armstrong's Last Good Night, Jack and the Beanstalk, the Elf Knight, Child Maurice, the Lass of Shiloh, the Mermaid, the Boy, the Three Ravens, Trooper and Maid and the Wife of the Blacksmith.

Dr. Johnson began his hospital career in St. John's, Brooklyn. He was later on the staff of the hospital at Kings Park, N. Y. He was first assistant physician in 1911 at the Boston State Hospital and soon after became executive assistant of the Psychopathic Hospital in Boston.

Manchester, N. H., Jan. 23.—The name of Almon Merrill is on the dangerous list at the Sherid Hospital.

He is suffering from three broken ribs, a broken arm and possibly from internal injuries received when he slipped off a fast-moving snowplow yesterday on the Portsmouth branch of the Boston & Maine.

Farmington, Me., Jan. 23.—Lloyd Richards, 16 years old, lost his left hand yesterday afternoon by getting it caught in a planing machine he was operating in a saw mill at North Chesterville. He was removed to the home of his father, Olin Richards, in North Chesterville and doctors were summoned from this village.

The young man lost considerable blood before his arrival. The hand, which was badly mangled, was amputated. How the accident occurred is not understood as Richards was familiar with the machine and has been operating it all winter.

COL. HALE MAY RUN.

Portland, Me., Jan. 23.—George W. Norton, editor of the Express-Advertiser, received yesterday the following telegram from Col. Frederick Hale, who is now in Paris, referring to the republican nomination for Congress in the 1st Congressional district.

"Regret Congressman Hinds' withdrawal. Expect to be back the last of February. If I then find a general feeling among the republicans of the district that I should enter the contest for the nomination, will do so, and will make the best fight I can for the nomination and election."

"FREDERICK HALE."

Mr. Norton said, referring to the nomination, that there seems to be a strong feeling in the district in favor of Col. Hale.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Quincy, Mass., Jan. 23.—Burned beyond recognition, the body of Mrs. Katherine Rooney was found last night in the cellar of her home by her son Joseph. It is believed she approached the furnace with a newspaper in her hand, and that when she opened the door, the back draft quickly enveloped her in flames.

REMOVAL NOTICE

On and after Jan. 1, 1914, Dr. S. F. A. Pickering, dentist, will be located in a new office, with an entire new and up-to-date outfit, situated at No. 32 Congress street, nearly opposite the old office, and having the same entrance as Dr. William O. Jenkins. I herewith extend a cordial invitation to all of my patrons and the public to inspect the same.

BEAD CHAINS TO WEAR WITH SILK

Interesting new chains of beads are shown, made to wear with silk waists. The beads are on a string about 30 inches long, and where the two ends are fastened together a long silk tassel is attached. When the chain is put about the neck the tassel hangs in the front, forming a deep V line of the beads.

Any woman could make such a chain to wear with any of her waists or frocks, says the New York Times. For use with a plaid jacket waist of blue, green and brown there is a chain made up of blue and green beads of dark shades as big as a pea, and of hat amber colored beads, each three quarters of an inch long.

Three blue beads are strung then three green, then a yellow, and then three blue again, and so on until the right length is made up. A yellow silk tassel about four inches long is used. Various color schemes can be worked out to go with various waists or frocks.

A TEN-YEAR-OLD CADILLAC REPEATS.

Ten years ago a 10 h.p. Cadillac, then a new shipping representative of the latest in automobile development, won the Royal Automobile Club of Great Britain 1,000 mile reliability run. The car emerged from the trial with a remarkable record, making 2,575 miles out of a possible 3,000.

Recently over the roads of Southern England, under the auspices of the R. A. C., the same little Cadillac two-seater machine has been making a remarkable showing by participating in the anniversary run of this famous trial and coming through with flying colors.

What makes this performance even more remarkable is the fact that this little old car has been on the road continuously since the trial of 1903, traveling many thousands of miles.

The local hotel have just received a new lot of badges and they appeared with the same on Thursday. They are the same model of the larger of the two.

QUICK ACTION SALE COMBINED WITH REGULAR SEMI-ANNUAL CLEARANCE

READ!

During the last two years we have given four remarkable demonstrations of value-giving and gained many new friends and customers by our method of doing business.

This year we give another big sale and we can assure you it is up to the standard of any that have gone before.

A backward season has caused some lines to move slower than usual and naturally we are overstocked.

But we would rather have part of our money back this year than to hold over. Consequently the price markings are considerably lower than we should ordinarily make.

We extend a cordial invitation to everybody to visit this store during the sale week and witness the evidence for themselves.
